On (March 1st 2009) - Gavel & Gown Software Inc., Toronto, a leading developer of practice management software for law firms, announced a formal partnership with I-Quest Limited, a leading London based legal technology consulting firm and service provider. Under the terms of the agreement, I-Quest will become the Amicus distribution partner for the United Kingdom and Ireland.

I-Quest has been providing high quality IT consulting and services to the legal community in the UK for over six years. Their team of experienced consultants offer strategy consulting, development, implementation, project management, support and training on a number of technologies. Their impressive client list boasts several of the UK's top legal firms.

"We are thrilled to be partnering with I-Quest as our new distribution partner for the United Kingdom and Ireland," says Les Hansen, Vice President Sales and Marketing, Gavel & Gown Software Inc. "Our strategy is to build upon our North American success by expanding our presence in key International markets. I-Quest is ideally situated to help us pursue this strategy in the UK."

Amicus software products are used by law firms in over 80 countries. The product line consists of practice management solutions, accounting solutions and mobile technologies.

"We are very pleased to be joining the Amicus distribution team," commented Kevin Mackay, Managing Director, I-Quest. "Amicus software solutions are world class products and are already being used by over 300 law firms in the UK. We believe they represent great value to our customers and can help firms to significantly streamline their operations."

Cost effective Document Management for small/medium Law firms on a budget....

FILEHOLD v.08

Although every law firm needs a document management system, not every law firm has one — or at least a real one (files and folders don't suffice the minute you add a second person to the mix). But don't blame law firms.

Many document management systems require a significant start up investment and learning curve. No wonder so many law firms have opted out even though they end up hurting themselves the most in the long term.

In One Sentence .....

FileHold Systems' is a document management software system that uses Microsoft technologies designed to reduce its cost and simplify its implementation for the benefit of the customer.

The Killer Feature...

FileHold makes your firm's documents available from any computer with access to the Internet, and keeps track of each version automatically thanks to "Smart Check Out/In."

For example, when you open a document and make changes, FileHold will prompt you to check out the document. When you close the document, FileHold will prompt you to check it back in, thus providing a version history and preventing lost documents and changes. Thanks to Smart Check Out/In, FileHold becomes the single version of the truth in a law firm and security is not compromised at all.

Notable Features....

FileHold stores email and other electronic documents directly from your desktop. It also integrates with scanners and multifunction machines to convert paper files into organized, searchable electronic documents. Thanks to integrated OCR, you can search all scanned cont.....

CORPORATE MOBILE PHONE VOICE RECORDING FOR LEGAL FIRMS

SINGLECOM announce their NEW Smart Mobile Phone Voice Recording "PLATO". Put simply PLATO records incoming and outgoing voice calls on your corporate mobile. PLATO sends the recording over the GPRS network when the call is finished to a central database (independent or your own or both) where it is archived and completely searchable. PLATO also keeps the last 10 conversations on the handset for instant retrieval, very useful for fee earners on the move. PLATO works on any network on any smart mobile phone anyway in the World. With compliance and security becoming more important in everyday working PLATO makes perfect sense for your corporate mobiles. More importantly it cost about the same as your mobile phone insurance. For more details go to:- www.singlecom.net
